

Preparing for Brexit

a no-deal guide Checklist

Customs and Revenue

Trading internationally requires businesses to be fully aware of all of their customs obligations, including EORI numbers; import/export declarations; transit/safety and security declarations; as well as international tariff classification schemes

- ✓ Register with Revenue for your EORI (Economic Operator Revenue Identification) number
- ✓ Identify your/your supply chain's customs exposure, in Ireland and the UK
- ✓ Understand your customs declarations obligations
- ✓ Consider a Customs Broker/In-house customs management system
- ✓ Attend a Customs Awareness course
- ✓ Identify potential Customs authorisations and/or simplification measures
- ✓ Identify tariff classification codes and obligations for each product/ingredient

Agriculture, health and foodstuffs

- ✓ Identify sanitary and phytosanitary (SPS) controls for ingredients/products (agriculture)
- ✓ Register with the responsible department for goods/products subject to SPS controls
- ✓ Ensure that you and your UK suppliers use ISPM 15 standard wood pallets

Rules and Regulations

- ✓ Assess your product certification requirements to ensure exporting to the UK post-Brexit
- ✓ Know your additional responsibilities as an importer when sourcing products from the UK post-Brexit
- ✓ Transfer your product certification to an EU-27 Notified Body
- ✓ Stay up-to-date with changes rules and regulations (e.g. product labelling) in Ireland and the UK
